

What Is An Expatriate Package?

ExpatsSingapore

Expatriate packages are a way for employers to help employees who are working in a foreign country. They can include things like housing, health insurance, and education for the employee's children. The specific details of an expatriate package will vary depending on the employer and the employee's needs.